

INSPIRATION CAN STRIKE AT ANY MOMENT!

The IBM Louis V. Gerstner Jr. Center for Learning

We host conferences that foster collaboration, creativity, and innovative thinking. We are defined by modern functionality, technology, and beauty, making the GCL the ideal business destination for training, learning, and corporate events of any type.

Meeting Spaces and Technology

The IBM Louis V. Gerstner, Jr. Center for Learning offers 16,800 sq. ft. of IACC certified meeting space, with 14 meeting rooms and 22 breakout rooms, including 20,000 sq. ft, of banquet space.

Each meeting room offers State-of-the-Art equipment with dedicated professional tech support staff, teleconference, and web conferencing capabilities. We offer full sound systems for video and audio playback and all our meeting rooms are equipped with system web conferencing platforms that include Webex, Zoom, BlueJeans and Microsoft® Teams.

All breakout rooms offer plug and play HDMI connectivity together with Web conferencing capabilities, and everyone is given complimentary secured high speed Wi-Fi.

AV equipment includes, 4K HDMI LED Flat panel projection displays, wireless page advancer remote, wireless handheld microphones, and standard wall, white boards which are portable. All meeting room technology is at your fingertips, centralized at a single panel or can be operated by our Crestron control system individually. All Mac users have wireless connectivity through airplay with Apple TV.

To boost consistent participation and engagement, each meeting room is equipped with ergonomic Steelcase® chairs ensuring all participants remain engaged throughout the day.

For a more private meeting option, consider booking Aspen Hall, which features two 864 sq. ft. meeting rooms, eight breakout rooms, a fully functional kitchen, private dining room, outdoor patios, all with a scenic view.
